

What did you feel while watching this film?

What concepts/ideas stood out?

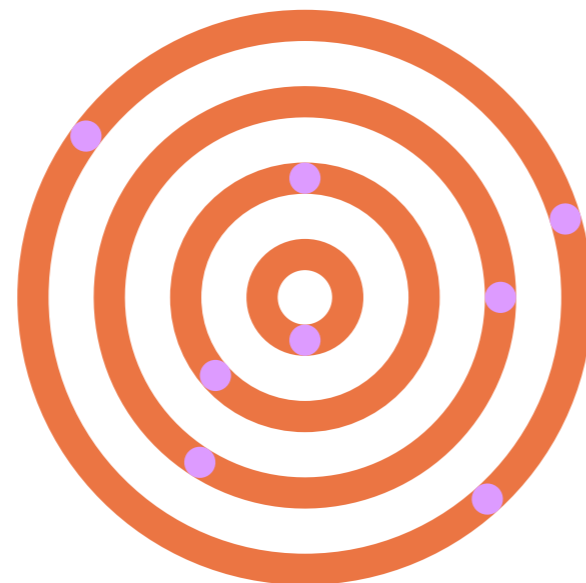

What is your metaphor that helps you understand systems?

Where and how do you see aliveness, emergence, interconnectedness, nestedness in this example?

Which systems are you working in?

How is it nested?

What questions are you leaving with?

What do you want to learn more about?

What questions are you building on/upon?

